

MALENE

2015 | ROSÉ | CENTRAL COAST

Malene Rosé is inspired by the classic Rosés of Provence, the winegrowing region in southern France renowned for its vibrant, beautifully-hued wines. Modeled on these wines, Malene sources traditional Rosé grape varieties – Grenache, Mourvedre and Vermentino (known as Rolle in France) – from California's Central Coast. As in Provence, this region features Mediterranean climates, sunny and warm during the day but with close proximity to the ocean to cool the vines at night. These coastal growing conditions produce grapes that are highly aromatic, while also providing the structure needed for the wine's balance and finesse.

TASTING NOTES

Malene has layered complexity with aromatics of citrus, stone fruit, orange blossom and a note of minerality. Like a fine, dry white wine, Malene Rosé can be enjoyed with a wide variety of foods, its layered versatility allowing for easy entertaining, both casual and formal. Well-suited to picnics and barbecues, its sophisticated, jewel-toned color and impeccably balanced texture make the wine an equally elegant match for refined dishes possessing complex flavors.

Crafted with uncompromising viticultural and winemaking techniques, Malene is a testament to the intentional dedication to Rosé that is in every bottle. ~
