DECEMBER 2018

A middleweight in the best sense, this Horse Heaven Hills cabernet is savory and fruit-driven at once, with exotic scents of cherry pipe tobacco and Asian spice supporting a core of black plum. The flavors are juicy and plummy, the tannins elegant yet chewy enough to call for aged beef.

WINE SPECTATOR
FEBRUARY 2019

Expressive black cherry and herbes de Provence flavors show richness and polish, yet the tannins come on strongly on the finish. Time will tell. Best from 2020 through 2024.
